I. RFP SPECIFICATIONS

A. Purpose and Scope of Services

KEMI seeks a computer records review program (utilizing artificial intelligence, machine learning or otherwise) to search medical records, highlight findings in the records and generate a report on the findings, which are linked back to the specific page(s) of the medical records, as well as a chronological sortable and searchable medical chronology. The search will include, but not be limited to, identify prior treatment for the same body part(s), objective medical findings on exam to support a diagnosis, keywords and phrases, as well as codes such as Current Procedural Terminology (CPT), Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM), International Classification of Diseases (ICD), prescription medications (prescription of, use of, pill counts, drug screens), comorbidities, identify repeat typographical errors that demonstrate copy and paste electronic medical notes/exams, as well as user specified ad hoc searches, and the ability to filter all of the above. The program should have its own base parameters that can be modified as needed for each claim. In addition, the program should be able to identify duplicates, organize the records by date and, if possible create custom packet (independent medical examination packets, Medicare Set Aside packets, etc.). The foregoing will be referred to herein as the Computerized Medical Records Review Program.

KEMI receives over 4,000 new claims a year, ranging from report only to catastrophic injury. KEMI desires a reliable computer system to undertake the previously described Computerized Medical Records Review Program. Currently this is done manually by Claims Examiners.
